Construction and Change

Traditions change from time to time just like the seasons change from year to year. Since Thomas Carr Howe High School was opened in the fall of 1938, many traditions have been established and many have been changed. From 450 students and a one-wing building to an enrollment of 2,400 and a structure now consisting of four additions, Howe has come a long way from its original intentions.

Violet Queen, Violet Hill, the Brown and Gold, and the Turnabout all have been traditions at Howe. Some are lost and the ones that still remain are very much changed because of time. Homeroom is no longer a part of a student's life. The Spring Pageant was erased because of the construction of the stadium. Many student activities have been lost because of apathy and expansion.

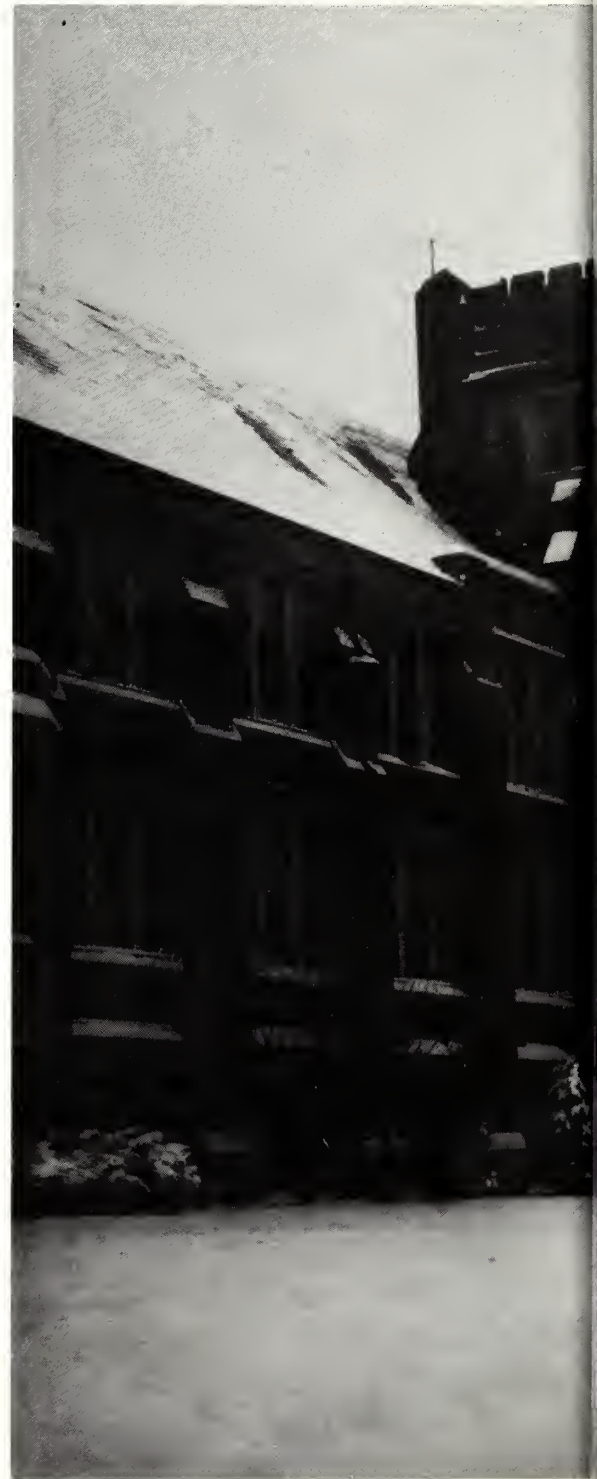

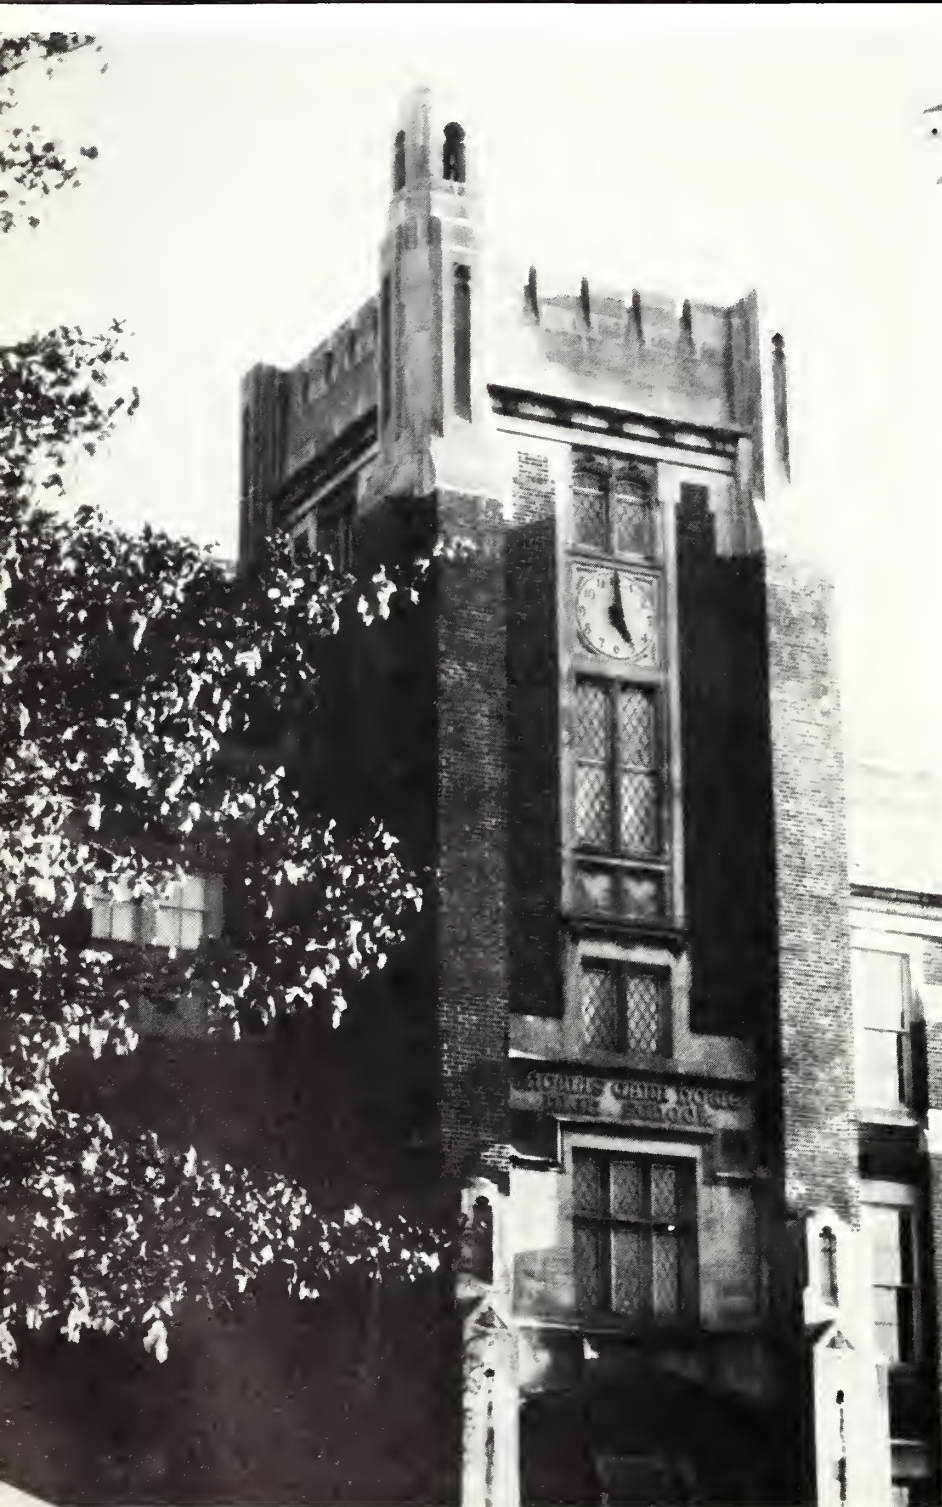

This was a special year for the country and the community, however—it was a year of history and celebration and a time to look into our own beginning. With many old activities brought to life and some new ones established, another year is folded into the past and plans to move on are underway.

But Still a Tradition

Homecoming, a tradition unchanged throughout its lifetime. From the very first football team at Howe, in 1943, the fall football and float extravaganza has been the high point of many eastsiders' frosty autumn nights.

The 1975 homecoming was the same in following tradition but will be remembered longer for its weather. Wading through mud and rain, the queen candidates and their escorts struggled to remain intact on the field during halftime. The floats, perhaps the best seen at Howe in a long time, were a little soggy but none the worse for wear. For the first time that anyone can recall, the band and drill team were unable to march because of freezing rain and windy weather. With the crowd scattered in huddles, and those who were there bundled under blankets, the cheerleaders determinedly cheered the players on. The Howe team held Sccecina scoreless most of the game, only to lose in the final moments.

Dances, the Best of Memories

A dance, one of the most important events of the year! It's expensive for all involved, but it's worth it. Of all the memories, the dances are the ones that stand out most. The girls in their dresses, the guys in their tuxes, having a good time.

The 1975 Turnabout, sponsored by the Hilltopper, was a big success. The Howe dance band played for the Turnabout. Since 1945 this has been held as the traditional girl-ask-guy dance, replacing the outdated May dance which was held outside.

The Brown and Gold was the first formal dance of the '75-'76 year at Howe. Everyone enjoyed themselves with the music and the company. The Sounds of Light Touch, chosen to play because of their popularity at the junior prom, were the best band at a Howe dance in a long time. The dance will be remembered by many people as one of the best dances we have had.

And then, for those who couldn't afford formal dances, there were the sock hops that yielded the fun without the high cost of a formal dance. Many people attended them and had a "dynamite" time.

Clubs Make Comeback

Clubs made a comeback of sorts at Howe this year. The German Club, sponsored by Mr. Kindle, became the first club in recent years to win the homecoming float competition. A membership of sixty worked on various projects in order to send a student to Germany for the summer. Smaller clubs continued active for students of French and Spanish. The History Club centered its activities on the Bi-centennial. The quiz team, despite inexperience, continued a winning tradition. The chess team challenged strong competition as always. Ebony Unlimited, with a larger membership, met informally with Mrs. Neal and Mrs. White throughout the year.

The 1975-76 Tower was directed by editor-in-chief Mark Gibson, managing editor Nanette Walters, and associate editor John Starneri. Mrs. Jeannie Martin sponsored the paper.

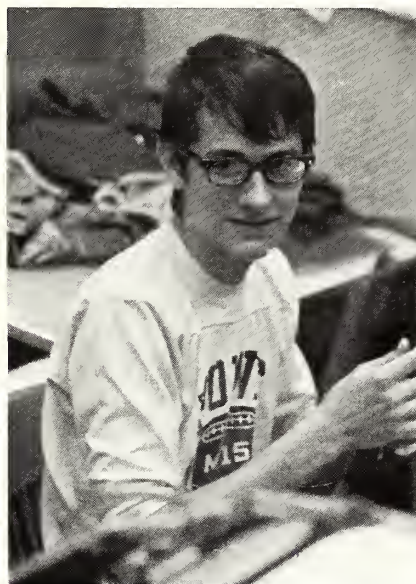

The goal of the staff was to publish a paper that covered the issues of concern to the students, listening to the student body and answering their questions. Several changes were made because of new financing methods. The paper was funded by the school and distributed to all Howe students and faculty. It was printed by students in the Howe print shop.

Many of the staff personnel attended one-week summer workshops at Ball State University, giving them the experience and skills needed to put out the issue regularly and to meet the needs of the student body.

A Year of Participation

The student council year 1975-76 marked a year of participation. President Susan Ferrer urged the students to get involved and unite behind Howe, and so they did as several committees offered the entire student body projects of participation throughout the year.

Lack of homerooms proved to be the biggest problem for the council as communication to students was severely hampered. Election of freshman members was handled differently from the past. An at-large election was held in the cafeteria, making future councils strictly voluntary.

Besides having the traditional dances, sock hops, and the Senior-Faculty basketball game, the student council sold personalized Bicentennial stickers. Projects created to involve everyone were the main goal this year. Among these projects were an Environmental Awareness Week which included painting trash cans, showing ecology films during study halls, and a "Walk for the Environment" in the surrounding Irvington area. A Bicentennial mural contest was held for students who wanted to design an American history mural. A "Stay in School" program was developed for the potential drop-out.

Student council ended its thirty-eighth year at Howe on a very positive note with a more involved student body. Once again the council proved to be a training ground for potential leaders.

The Skin of Our Teeth

The senior play, Thornton Wilder's The Skin of Our Teeth, was an unusual play for a senior class to perform. It concerns the survival of man from the beginning up to and through the wars.

Certain traditions set by former senior plays were followed this year by the members of the cast. Mrs. Hariette Baker, who has directed the play since 1970, had the same problem as in past years of finding a time when all cast members could be at a practice at the same time. This problem did not keep the play from being well acted and a big success for the senior class.

"Fire-up for Victory"

The managers and trainers are highly regarded according to the athletic department. With the help these people have provided, the athletes and coaches are left with the valuable practice time they need.

"Fire-Up for Victory!" This is the cheerleaders' motto. Getting the student body involved actively at school sport functions ranks as one of the most important goals for our cheerleaders. Long hours of preparation go into their work. In addition to afternoon practices many of the girls attend summer camps, varsity at the University of Kentucky and reserve at Ball State. Varsity cheerleaders also lend their talents to the freshman cheerleaders and teach them cheers and chants.

Hard Won Battles—Close Defeats

On September 8, 1943, a tradition was started at Howe which just completed its thirty-second season. Mr. Samuel Kelley, now retired, issued uniforms to about 70 men who broke into four intramural teams. And that is how football became a part of Howe life.

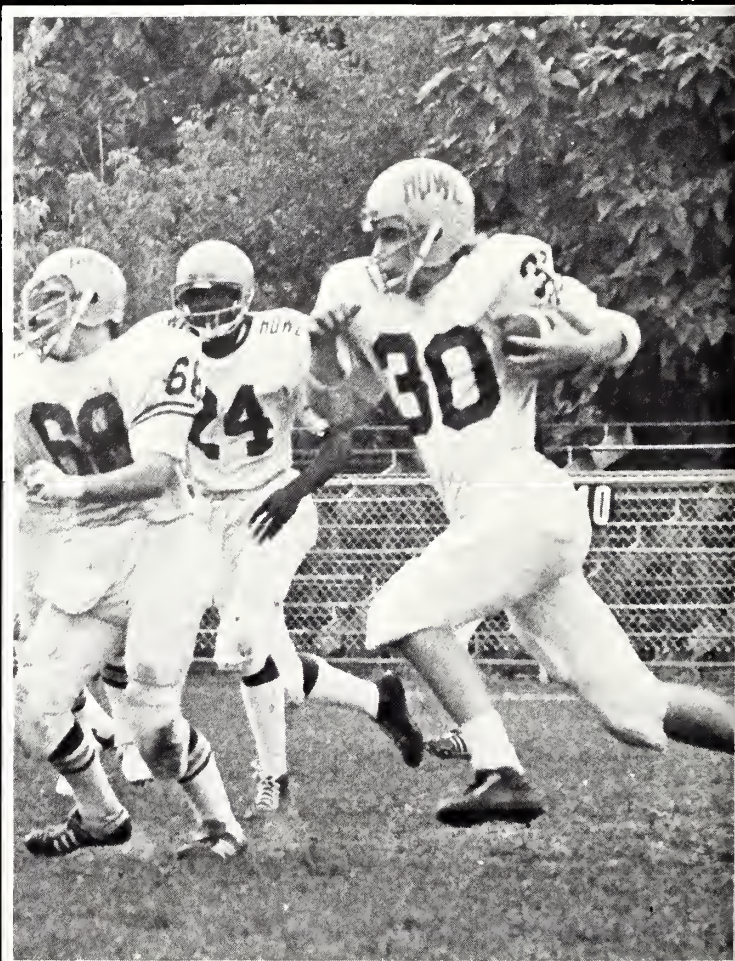

In September of 1975 tradition was carried on as Coach Stewart selected his varsity squad for the season. Rushing was a big factor this year with junior James Fair breaking the all-time Howe record and the team gaining an impressive 2,191 yards. Ray Littleton and Don Hughett both had good passing records and the defensive line-up produced one of the best tackling records at Howe. To the fans the year could be summed up as a season of hard won battles and close defeats with the completed record of 6-4.

Will Be Winners

A result of too many trying out and a need for basic training in prospective varsity players, the reserve football team was formed.

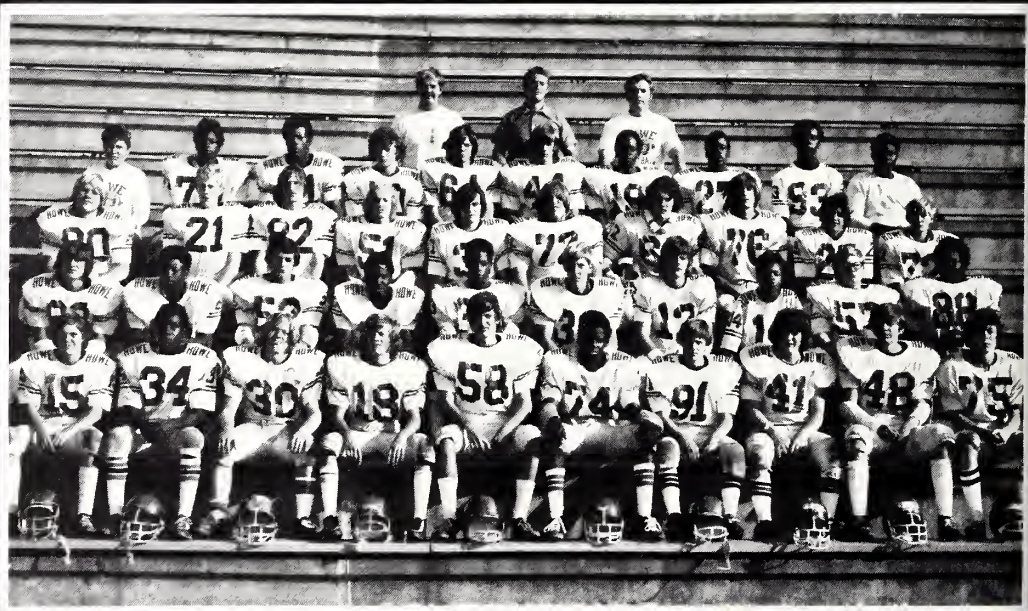

If this season was any indication of varsity squads to come, then Howe is in for many more winning seasons in football. The reserve squad ended the year with an 8-2 record, placing them second in the city. Perhaps not showing the experience of a varsity team or demonstrating perfect execution all the time, the junior varsity team did make the games exciting with unexpected come-back victories.

This year's beginning football team showed the potential to be winners for Howe in coming seasons. Though the freshmen lacked experience and unity in the beginning, towards the end improvement came through and they ended their season with a 1-8-1 record.

The coaching staff and fans felt that in the next four years the players will be winners.

Spikers Win

Howe's 1975 volleyball team had, according to Coach Nancy McMillan, the best season since she started coaching the team in 1972. The varsity record was 7-4 and reserve was 4-6. The season got off to a slow start but toward the end the girls really improved and showed their true abilities, which led them to competition in sectional semi-finals. The level of ability throughout the state has improved so much over the last few years that Coach McMillan felt sure that this team could have won at least sectionals three or four years ago.

Seniors dominated the varsity squad. The MVP award was given to Carol McCrae, and the Best Mental Attitude award was received by Laurel Lagenaur.

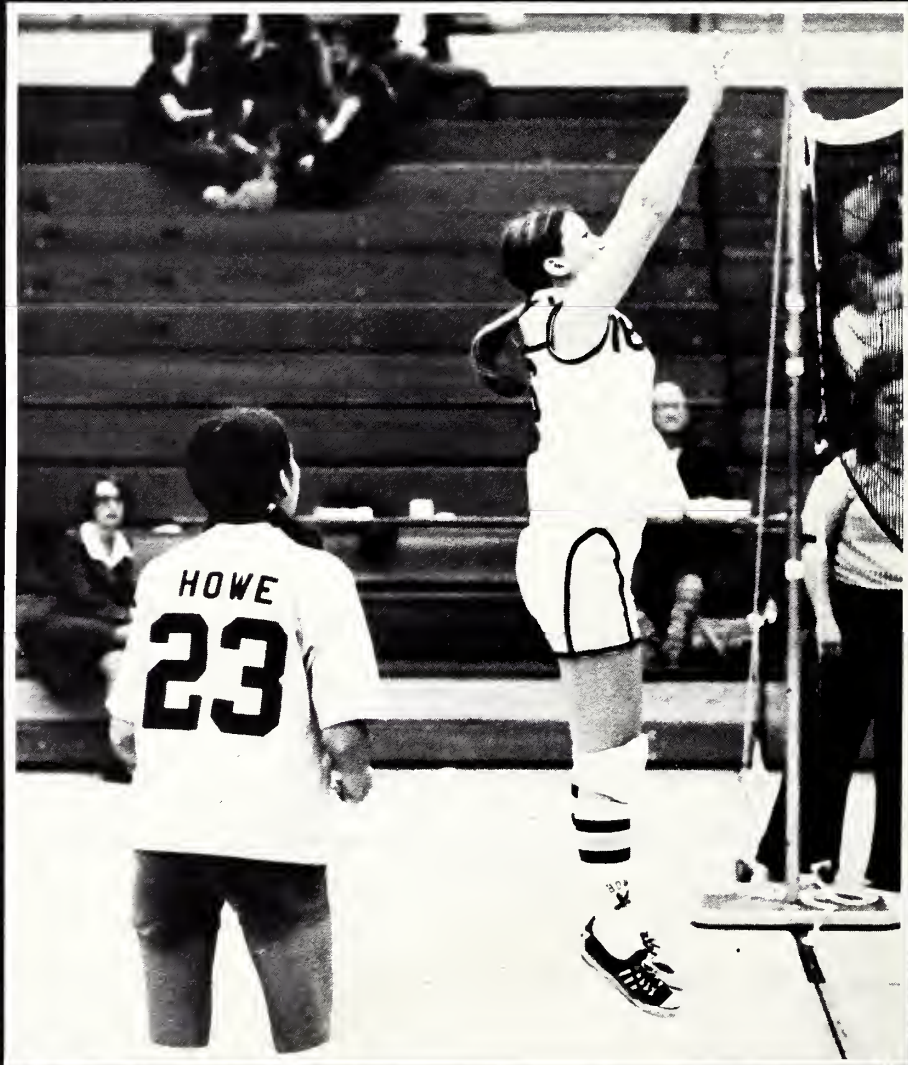

The team ended the season looking forward to next year with many returning players.

Freshmen Run with Best

Cross country was the first sport engaged in at Howe, back in 1939, and is the only sport at Howe that trains all year long. With a new coach, Tim Jessup, and a young team, they produced a 12-10 record and placed sixth of 18 in the city race.

The freshman squad ended their first season with a 13-2 record and placed a close second in the city meet. Freshman Russell Raney received a varsity award, which only emphasized the quality of the upcoming cross country teams at Howe.

Experience Brings Improvement

The girls swim team had a very rewarding season. With nine returning members, talented freshmen, and hard practices the girls succeeded in breaking records in 13 different events. They also broke their two year losing streak with three wins and eight losses.

Freshman Carolyn Hughett, most valuable swimmer, placed fifth in sectional finals and both the medley relay and the 400 freestyle relay teams returned for sectional consolations. Senior Janice Wiggins was voted best mental attitude to end the season. With a young team and a new coach, Jody Hancock, the team continued the tradition with hard practices and lots of team spirit.

Although the team has only been in existence three years the girls have done much for the women's athletic program at Howe.

Home away From Howe

Ellenberger Park has been the scene of practice and home matches for the boys tennis team since its beginning in 1956. This year was essentially a rebuilding year for the team because there were only three returning lettermen, but the squad showed a fine season by winning 11 matches in a row. The final record for the tennis team proved that not much rebuilding was needed as the season ended with a 12-4 score.

Winter of '75-'76

Tradition a Keynote

The music department this year has undergone a few changes. First of all, Mr. Tom Lewis is the new department head. Second, the Boy's Octet and the Girl's Ensemble have combined to form a new group called the Swing Choir, under the direction of Mr. Lewis. They perform at school functions and outside social occasions, singing recent songs.

One of the more traditional musical groups at Howe is the Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Mr. Robert Bramblett. They meet during the ninth period, as do the Swing Choir. The Madrigals also perform at school programs, but they specialize in medieval madrigal feasts, which are given during the Christmas season at community churches. Their numbers usually consist of older tunes which coincide with their feasts.

The Choir also has been a long standing tradition here at Howe. It is directed by Mr. Lewis. The Choir has performed for such occasions as Christmas on the Circle, the Irvington Community Sing, featuring all of the music department, and the Christmas assembly for Howe's student body. Many of the members of the choir sing in the other music groups such as the Swing Choir, Madrigals, and Boy's Chorus and Girl's Concert Club. Individual members participate in All-City and All-State Choirs. But the main event for them is the musical which is given in March.

Five Win First Chairs

The 1975-76 band did an excellent job. The band marched at the 500 Festival Parade, the 500 Race and the Veterans Day Parade. This year the band entered the state contest for the first time since Mr. Mahler's arrival. Sixteen members of the band went to All-City. Five of them received first chair position.

The sixty member orchestra played at the Pops Concert, Christmas program, Spring Concert and musical. They performed at different places in the community during the holiday season. String Ensemble had performances at churches and community functions all through the year. The Ensemble was made up of the top 15 string players in the music department. Howe sent 25 members to the All-City Orchestra, the largest number from any school in the city.

Hornet Honeys—

The girls drill team became known as the Hornet Honeys in 1969 as a result of a school-wide contest to re-name the squad.

Tradition was broken this year when the Honeys were unable to march at the football homecoming game because of bad weather. The Honeys were able to march at all other home football and basketball games though.

Captain Carrie Shepard along with co-captain Becky Smith made this a year of new and exciting dances. They used such steps as the bump and the robot.

Sixteen of the Hornet Honeys made up an honor team known as the military squad. This squad, led by captain Sue Heustis and co-captain Jenny McCormick, marched at all military meets with the ROTC units.

Varsity Hits Open Man

Basketball was one of the first sports engaged in at Howe, both intramurally and interscholastically. Though no state champs have been produced, the team has always been one of the best at Howe.

This year's team, with their season coming to a close, was the best team the Hornets have had in a while. The varsity's biggest problem was their lack of size. But the team's ability to "hit the open man" made up for their minuses.

The reserve basketball team overcame a big hurdle of inexperience to capture the city title. The reserves entered tourney competition with a record of 10-1, losing only to Tech by 2 points. Coming out of tourney play the reserves held the city title after defeating Wood in the final game.

A hard-working freshman squad with the never-die attitude began their basketball career with a lot of hard work and a strong effort despite a losing season because of inexperience. They were up against such weaknesses as a lack of shooting ability and fundamentals. According to coach Smith, the best game of the season was against the 12-0 Washington team. With a minute to go the Hornets were only two points behind.

Girls Boast Winning Tradition

Not many teams at Howe can boast a record like the girls gymnastics team. A three-year state finalist banner hangs in the gym and the girls hope to add a winner. New talent has overcome the loss of several seniors. Coach Reinhardt commented that this year was tougher than the last two, but the girls looked forward to hosting and competing in sectionals here this year. # New Sport—New Faces

A new sport and new faces adorned the new gym this year in the form of boys gymnastics and head coach Rick Hewitt. Coach Hewitt came from Pike High School, where he received the title of Boys Gymnastics Coach of the Year in 1975.

As usual starting a new team was tough but it proved to be promising. There were no team wins in the first year record but individual winners shone through in several events. Lack of experience on the equipment hindered the young team but determination and enthusiasm helped to make the first year team exciting.

Hornet backers may be assured of another competitive sport in the next few seasons.

Improvement Doubles

The boys swimming team with nine returning members has definitely improved in the last two years. Starting with Mike Goetz as their coach and changing mid-season to Tim Jessup, organizer and coach of the swimming program at Howe, the boys doubled their wins from the past years. The team had much more depth this year and included many seconds, thirds, and fourths, along with the first places.

In the next couple of years Howe fans should see the young team improve and broaden the swimming program in city schools.

Mat Men Pin City—

Wrestling began at Howe back in 1957 when the young team placed seventh in the city. This year the team had many exciting wins but the highlights of the season were winning the city meet with eight members placing and hosting the school's first sectional. Sophomore Matt Langenbacher qualified for the semi-state. Coach Jim Arvin said that the team's strengths were a tremendous self-dedication and team unity. The only problem was that the coaches had to cut many talented boys from the popular program.

Although the reserve wrestling squad could not finish with another 10-0 record, they did have an impressive season.

An excellent freshman team, usually at a disadvantage because of lack of experience, proved that the Howe wrestling program may look forward to many more exciting seasons like this year's 6-2.

New Sport Popular

After existing for many years in GAA, girls basketball moved up to its own varsity team this year. It proved to be a very popular sport, attracting nearly eighty girls to tryouts. Twenty-five girls were chosen to play on the varsity and reserve squads.

Howe was at a disadvantage, being the only new basketball team in the city, but head coach Bob Mitchell overcame this handicap with hard practice. He summed up the teams' attitude by saying, "The enthusiasm is super." Reserve coach Rita Gaither added, "In spite of many losses, the girls still have great spirit." The girls showed much improvement through the season, and look forward to a talented team next year.

A Different Tune

This year's musical was quite different from musicals in the past, not only because four performances were given but also because Li'l Abner is not the traditional, flowery, glamorous, romantic production of by-gone days. Instead of being set in far-off lands or the bright lights of a big city, it is set in a small, unnecessary hick town known as Dogpatch, USA.

The musical was the highlight of the music season and the big performance for many senior cast members. This year's musical, like musicals of before, was a big production and a success.

Leadership in Practice

Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) was established for boys at Howe in 1954. In 1973, only two years ago, a program for girls was added.

Instruction in leadership is the most important goal. ROTC tries to give the student a chance to instruct others and to learn the good and the bad of having people in his command. Students are also taught the basic military skills.

This was the second year the boys drill team have had their new uniforms, which may only be worn in exhibition drill meets. The regular ROTC uniforms are worn for straight drill. The girls drill team has not obtained enough money for special uniforms yet. They cleaned up the gym after sports events (with a lot of help from other ROTC members) to earn money for uniforms. They hope to have them for next year.

The Color Guard did a good job of presenting the colors at sports events. The Rifle Team showed competitive skill at the rifle meets.

First Sgt. Harold M. Ecktmann, SAI (Senior Army Instructor), has been here for eight years. His assistant for several years has been M/Sgt. Jerome Baker. The Battalion Commander at Howe was Cdt./Lt. Col. Matthew T. Orth.

Highlight Is Final Game

The Hornet baseball team has come a long way from a 7-5 season back in 1948 to a 16-11 record in 1975. The team was a well balanced junior-senior group with a lot of returning players. The '75 season was one of improvements as the team improved both the batting averages and the individual records. Coach Spears commented on the team, saying, "The highlight of our season was getting into the final game of the sectionals before losing 6-5 to state runner-up Marshall in a game that could have gone either way."

Averages Soar

The freshman and reserve baseball teams were still better than average last year. The reserve team ended their season with 10 wins and 9 losses. Their leading batter was Mike Taylor. According to Mr. Preston, the team's batting average was "extremely high for a team average."

The freshman team had a record of 11 wins and 3 losses with Bruce Shadiow having the highest batting average. Freshman coach Mr. Hedges commented, "In all of the team's losses we out-hit the opponents."

Golfers Talented but No Titles

In 1941 the linksmen held sectional, regional, and state finalist titles. In 1975 the golf team held no titles but placed well in all the matches and ended the season with a 14-2 record.

Guiding the team as captain was Doug Cotter, the squad's long ball hitter. Senior John Sullivan was voted most valuable player and proved his value with his coolness on the fairways. Although only seven men may play on the varsity squad, the junior varsity proved that not all the talent lies in the upper ranks. Coach Phil Brown took the team to sectionals and regionals. He will not be returning next season but hopefully the golf team tradition will be carried on.

Girls tennis was probably one of the strongest competitors at Howe but one of the least publicized. With only two years of IHSAA competition as experience the young team sent players to sectionals, regionals, and state. # Record-Breaking Year

The spring of 1941 was the first season for a mens track team and the start of a long-lasting tradition at Howe. It also set the records which have been broken often but never as much as this year. Five all-time Howe records and six freshman records were broken. Co-captain Gary Selke broke the 100 and 220 dash records. Co-captain Roger Wright capped his career by smashing the old two-mile record with a time of 9:28.5. He won the city title and placed 13th in the state. The mile relay team ran 3:26.3 and Greg Mathias whirled the discus 158'9" to set Howe records.

Outstanding freshman was Abe Moore, who set records in the 100 and 220. Other freshman records were set in the low hurdles, discus, long jump, and 880 relay.

The varsity won 9 of their 12 meets and placed a fine 5th in the city and 8th in the sectional. The mens track team will suffer a great loss next year with the retirement of Mr. Wood. He commented on his seven years at Howe, "Coaching is really the only way you can reach these kids, and that's the thing I'm really going to miss."

G. Beth Strickland and Sue Layman complete one lap of the newly added mile run.

New Dimensions

With only three years of experience in their favor the womens track team did exceptionally well for such a young team. During the 1975 season the team and three-year coach Nancy McMillan sent seven girls to sectionals and one to state. Pilar Ammons, voted most valuable member, placed seventh in the state finals. The 880 relay team, hurdler, long jumper, milers and 100-yard sprinter all participated in sectionals. Three-year veteran Carol McCrae received the best mental attitude award. A new dimension of the season was a new assistant coach, Paul Miller.

- A. Kathy Powers, Bonnie Bingle, and Nancy Hinch begin the 880-run, a strenuous event.
- B. Carol McCrae clears the hurdles and digs in for the finish.
- C. High jumper Lenny Primm was Howe's highest placer in the city meet.
- D. Pilar Ammons finishes first in the 440 at the Howe-Shortridge meet.
- E. Talented John Scharbrough clears the bar in a winning vault.
- F. Junior lead-off man Doug Privette moves out as the gun goes off.
- G. Reserve Track. Row 1: C. Glenn, S. Leonard, J. Ayers, C. Roeschlein, G. Privette, B. Hunter, B. Hicks, R. Collins, V. Drake, J. Genrich, J. Boyd. Row 2: L. Primm, J. Cook, D. Sutter, D. Shadiow, R. Bone, C. Niemann, T. Edwards, B. Boekankamp, A. Wilson, M. Brown, D. Clellan. Row 3: S. Gonzalez, K. Sloan, P. Rettig, J. Clark, J. Welch, R. Thein, R. Purdue, K. Knuth, O. Cowherd, S. Carter. Row 4: Mr. Chisley, Mr. Harpold, Mr. Wood.
- H. Freshman Abe Moore takes the baton and the race in stride as he pushes off.

IM's—Basis for Sports

At one time all of Howe's inter-scholastic sports were intramurals. Two intramural sports still live on, bowling and basketball. The bowling intramural program is fairly new since it started in 1970. There were 28 teams and approximately 250 people participating in the program.

The basketball intramural program consisted of 11 freshman-sophomore teams and 13 junior-senior teams. The highlight of the year was the championship game between the two leagues before the senior-faculty game.

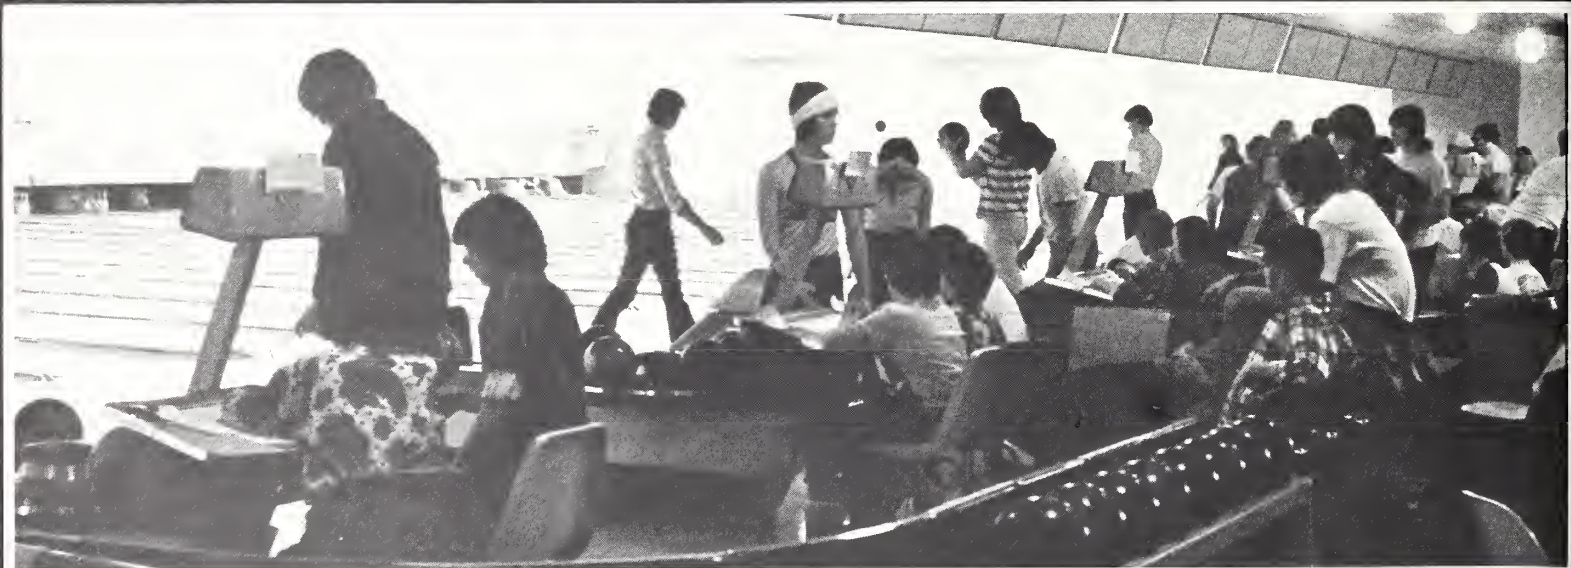

A. Intramurals provide fun for participants.

B. Howe bowlers crowd the lanes on Monday afternoon.

C. Many Howe bowlers show fine form.

Career Programs Grow

This was a relatively good year for Howe students. The media center sparked a new interest in reading. It has excellent audio-visual materials, and the pleasant surroundings provide students with a welcome relief from study hall.

The career center was also new this year. Students can go there for counseling on the area of work they would like to enter after graduation.

Howe has long been known for academic achievement, and there is proof in the large number of students in the National Honor Society. However, the number of students going on to college has declined over the past ten years. Many are attending technical and business schools instead.

There has been quite a change in several departments in the last decade. The Industrial Arts Department has received the most improvements. It has added new areas and improved all its labs with new equipment and machines. Graphic arts has obtained a new lab. Also, the department has added new courses to its already wide selection of classes. Among them are electronics, prevocational education, and power and auto mechanics.

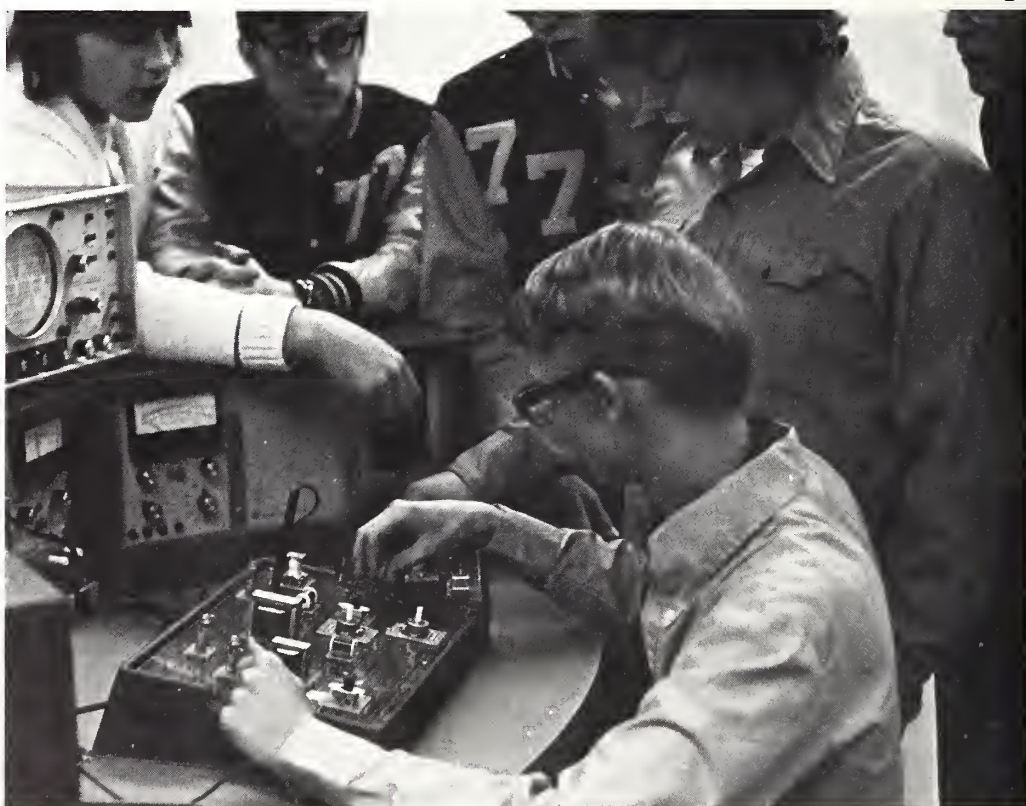

Howe has changed to include classes that students used to have to take at other schools and to combine new techniques with a long established academic system.

Slave Quarters, Mental Ward, The Zoo. Call it what you will but the 1975-76 staff has done a fantastic job for such a young group. I felt that no captions and very little copy were needed for the Hilltopper page. The pictures tell the story and the workers know how it was. Jokes and fun times were part of it but late night sessions and Saturday work days were also part of our job. I would like to thank my staff for all their dedication and everyone else for their cooperation. Good luck next year and the years to come. Janice Wiggins, Editor.

Spirit

Scholarship

Sportsmanship

In their four years at Howe, the seniors saw changes in the system, traditions, and building. There were a new administration, a new English curriculum, the elimination of some classes and the addition of a lot of electives.

The removal of homeroom caused a lack of communication and a rumble of dislike through some. A change in student council helped to open the channels but still many activities were dropped.

The Brown and Gold, the Turnabout, and the proms still remained but what ever happened to the Winter Wonderland Dance, the Sweetheart Dance, and the May Pageant? All of those were once a part of Howe but seem to have been lost in the shuffle of our growth.

Memories of when our football team was 9-0 and lost the chance to compete in regionals to Washington on a cold and rainy fall night, and the two years that the gym team went to state and took runner-up positions, all flood back when looking at our sports program. Women's sports have taken a big leap while the seniors have been here, with the beginning of three new sports. The completion of the new gym topped our stay at Howe and added the advantage of having city and sectional events played here in many sports.

Changes came so fast in the last four years that a lot of things have been lost but the seniors came through and managed to leave Howe with some new trends and once again the feeling of accomplishment.

Faculty Evaluation Year

The Howe faculty have done a meritable job. Besides their classroom work, teachers give up their time to sponsor clubs and other after-school activities. The administrative, guidance, and clerical staff do a beneficial job in helping students.

Every seven years there is a five-month self-study time to prepare evaluations for the following year's North Central Association survey. The staff works with students and parents to decide how well the school does in a particular area. Their goal is to improve instruction. This has been the self-study year at Howe and all staff members have been involved with many extra hours of meetings. The faculty have had a tremendous interest in seeing that the school keeps the first-rate evaluation it has traditionally maintained.

A Season for Memories

School year 1975-76. We have tried to put together a memory of that year in hopes of reminding the student body and the faculty of a little of what happened during one of the most historic times in our lifetime. Though a lot cannot be pictured or even mentioned because it fell after the last deadline, we hope that what we have represented shows more types of life at Howe than the books of years past.

We make no apologies for not going Bicentennial because we felt the best way for Howe to celebrate would be to be original and not copy others. Perhaps we have shown life at Howe in the true sense, the sense of season, by neither pushing red, white, and blue 1976 nor abdicating it. For life at Howe centers around seasons, as did the crowning of basketball homecoming queen Cindy Clark at the end of the winter activities. Seasons are the base for school activities and seem to represent the student body as it changes throughout the year.
